19th May 2015

Dear Parents/Carers,

We were delighted to have recently won £250 for the school as part of the Environmental Youth Award sponsored by HSBC. We were selected as the winning school from nominated schools across Dorset for our use of the environment and outdoors to further our children's learning.

This resulted in a panel of further judges visiting our school in order to judge the regional winner from four regions: Bristol, Somerset, Wiltshire and of course Dorset. These judges wrote 'We were most impressed by the work, enthusiasm and politeness displayed by the children. It was a most interesting visit for all of us and we much enjoyed seeing what you had to offer.'

The result of this visit and indeed the presentation of this Award (by Lady Fellowes) will take place at the Royal Bath and West Show on Friday 29th May, during half term. The result is not known before. We have been allocated 10 free tickets in order to take some children along to the presentation. Eco Committee have been largely involved in presenting to the judges and ensuring that our outside learning environment is looked after at All Saints.

Therefore I am inviting your child to be part of this day and to come along to The Bath and West Show on the above date. We are to meet in the ground floor of the Judges Box alongside the main ring at 11.45 for a briefing before the result is announced and the presentation made at 12 noon.

The children will need to be in full school uniform and accompanied by an adult. After the presentation, the children will all be given a packed lunch and a 'goody bag' and can stay to enjoy the show. If you would like your child to be at the presentation you can use the free ticket for your child and purchase further tickets (online is cheapest) for other members of the family and you attend 'as a family' - meeting up at the designated time for the presentation. (It may be that this is a regular visit you make anyway.)

I have been advised of the need to leave early for the Showground due to the volume of traffic. As arrangements will need to be finalised before Friday and tickets distributed please could I have a response by return.

With best wishes,

Anne Crumpler
